

Clean Air
Parents'
Network

Air pollution in Birmingham is damaging our children's health.

Young lungs can be stunted by dirty air, causing health problems now and when they are adults. In Birmingham there are roads with illegal and harmful levels of air pollution, these are in areas where children live and play.

Is there anything we can do about it?

- YES! If we join together we can do something about this serious problem. We need politicians to be willing to take action to make our towns and cities cleaner and healthier places for all of us.
- Join the Clean Air Parents' Network to ask for action so that all children can breathe cleaner air with healthy lungs.

Join a parent and carer network that will:

- Help you to understand the key issues around air pollution
- Support you to contact and influence decision makers at a national and local level
- Inspire action through sharing stories, experiences, information, ideas and activities
- Offer resources and support to help you get involved in whatever way you can
- Connect you to other parents and carers who are concerned about air pollution so that together you can help build pressure for action at a national and local level to tackle the problems it causes
